Born in a brothel! Raised by an outlaw! Under the roof of a lecherous uncle! Connie longs to escape. Connie didnt have a last name, but figured Davis would do since he was the closest to a daddy shed ever had. Davis left his outlaw gold for her in a cave outside Springfield, Missouri. Only problem is, a girl alone can get lost crossing the Arkansas hills and forests when she doesnt know the way. Then her sheriff uncle arrests a handsome fellow from Missouri. Hes gonna hang for murder, but that doesnt stop Connie. Brett Norris has never been in so much trouble. He wasnt even with the bank robbers, but looks like hell swing, anyway. Then the sheriffs niece takes him from jail at gunpoint, and he soon learns she isnt a twelve-year-old child like he thought. He cant take an enticing young woman across Arkansas alone, but every time he tries to leave her with a good family, their lives become even more entangled until he faces a shotgun and a preacher.
